Critical Gender Studies

The UCSD Critical Gender Studies Program, formerly Women's Studies, is an interdisciplinary academic program, offering students the opportunity to study gender, race, class, sexuality, and nationalism as intersecting categories of analysis and experience. Some basic questions that anchor the program's core curriculum include asking how these categories become institutionalized and yet change over time? How do they work together to shape individual identity?; contribute to the organization of social life?; become essential to the production of many different kinds of knowledge about that life?

The program's core curriculum builds upon feminist scholarship of the last decade, incorporating the new interdisciplinary agendas, intellectual debates, changing methodological practices, and major scholarly shifts that have reshaped the field of women's studies. Informed by the insights of critical race feminism, feminist critiques of conventional domains of knowledge, and gay and lesbian inquiries challenging traditional understandings and assumptions about sexuality, this new core curriculum is designed to move students beyond simple binary descriptions and contemporary, popularized accounts of gender. Instead, gender is analyzed in the full complexity of its construction over time and in a variety of cultural, scholarly, and global arenas.

Students can expect to encounter a rich spectrum of approaches in studying these complex constructions—the majority of a student's advanced work in the program consists of upper division courses from history, communication, literature, ethnic studies, sociology, anthropology, philosophy, and political science. However, despite their important differences, what these approaches share is a critical stance with respect to the subject of gender. This stance, reflected in the program's name "Critical Gender Studies," refuses easy answers when exploring the social relations of gender and reaches, instead, for detailed accounts of the intricacies and paradoxes of power through which these relations are and have been made and maintained.

Critical gender studies prepares undergraduates for a variety of careers through the study of social, political, economic, historical, and cultural contexts. For example, the interdisciplinary and multi-disciplinary course work that students complete as part of a major in critical gender studies provides an excellent foundation for those students with career aspirations in law, medicine and health sciences, public administration, and social services. Students wishing to pursue doctoral work will also find that interdisciplinary training in critical gender studies equips them with theoretical and methodological strengths in most disciplines and applied research fields. Specialists in gender studies are increasingly being used as consultants in industry, higher education, insurance companies, and personnel firms. State and federal government agencies require people who have special training in analyzing gender relations. Finally, educational institutions need specialists to develop and administer women's centers and gay and lesbian centers as well as other institutional structures and programs.

The Critical Gender Studies Program offers two options of study: an undergraduate major and an undergraduate minor (or program of concentration). To declare a major, a department stamp is required. Because critical gender studies is an interdisciplinary major, it is important to work closely with a faculty adviser in the planning of your program.

Preparation for the Major and Minor

All critical gender studies majors and minors are required to take the Introduction to Critical Gender Studies sequence: Critical Gender Studies 2A-B, 100, and 101.

Major Program

Students are required to concentrate in one of five cluster areas: culture and representation; sexualities; work, migration, and globalization; science, technology, and medicine; history, society, and inequalities. Concentrating in a cluster area entails taking five upper-division courses (twenty units) in that area. To complete the major, students are required to complete five additional upper-division courses (twenty units) in cluster areas outside their chosen area of concentration. At least one of the five upper-division courses a student takes outside their chosen area of concentration must be selected from the program's upper-division course list.

CONCENTRATION IN CULTURE AND REPRESENTATION

Group A. Five upper-division courses (twenty units) in the culture and representation cluster area from the critical gender studies approved course list.

Group B. Five upper-division courses (twenty units) in cluster areas other than culture and representation to be selected from the critical gender studies approved and petitionable course list. At least one of these courses must be chosen from Critical Gender Studies 102-103-104. All five courses may be chosen from Critical Gender Studies 102-103-104 (i.e., each course may be repeated once, provided the course content is different). A maximum of three courses (twelve units) may be selected in any one cluster area.

CONCENTRATION IN SEXUALITIES

Group A. Five upper-division courses (twenty units) in the sexualities cluster area, from the critical gender studies approved course list.

Group B. Five upper-division courses (twenty units) in cluster areas other than sexualities to be selected from the critical gender studies approved and petitionable course list. At least one of these courses must be chosen from Critical Gender Studies 102-103-104. All five courses may be chosen from Critical Gender Studies 102-103-104 (i.e., each course may be repeated once, provided the course content is different). A maximum of three courses (twelve units) may be selected in any one cluster area.

CONCENTRATION IN WORK, MIGRATION, AND GLOBALIZATION

Group A. Five upper-division courses (twenty units) in the work, migration, and globalization cluster area, from the critical gender studies approved course list.

Group B. Five upper-division courses (twenty units) in cluster areas other than work, migration, and globalization to be selected from the critical gender studies approved and petitionable course list. At least one of these courses must be chosen from Critical Gender Studies 102-103-104. All five courses may be chosen from Critical Gender Studies 102-103-104 (i.e., each course may be repeated once, provided the course content is different). A maximum of three courses (twelve units) may be selected in any one cluster area.

CONCENTRATION IN SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, AND MEDICINE

Group A. Five upper-division courses (twenty units) in the science, technology, and medicine cluster area, from the critical gender studies approved course list.

Group B. Five upper-division courses (twenty units) in cluster areas other than science, technology, and medicine to be selected from the critical gender studies approved and petitionable course list. At least one of these courses must be chosen from Critical Gender Studies 102-103-104. All five courses may be chosen from Critical Gender Studies 102-103-104 (i.e., each course may be repeated once, provided the course content is different). A maximum of three courses (twelve units) may be selected in any one cluster area.

CONCENTRATION IN HISTORY, SOCIETY, AND INEQUALITIES

Group A. Five upper-division courses (twenty units) in the history, society, and inequalities cluster area, from the critical gender studies approved course list.

Group B. Five upper-division courses (twenty units) in cluster areas other than history, society, and inequalities to be selected from the critical gender studies approved and petitionable course list. At least one of these courses must be chosen from Critical Gender Studies 102-103-104. All five courses may be chosen from Critical Gender Studies 102-103-104 (i.e., each course may be repeated once, provided the course content is different). A maximum of three courses (twelve units) may be selected in any one cluster area.

Honors Program

The Critical Gender Studies Honors Program allows advanced critical gender studies majors to pursue individual projects in the context of collective intellectual exchange with their peers and advising faculty. Students are eligible if they a) have senior standing at the time they begin the program, b) are approved by the critical gender studies faculty director and steering committee. Normally, students eligible for honors will have a 3.5 grade-point average in upper-division courses taken for the major, but highly motivated students who do not meet this criterion may be admitted to the program at the discretion of the director and the critical gender studies steering committee.

In the fall quarter of their senior year, students take the Honors Seminar (CGS 190), taught by a member of the critical gender studies faculty. The first half of the quarter is devoted to intensive analysis and discussion of recent publications in the fields of gender and sexuality. During the second half of the quarter, each student develops a short thesis proposal and presents it for group discussion. While taking the Honors Seminar, each student also registers for CGS 196A: The Honors Thesis, 4 units of independent study with a faculty member associated with critical gender studies. With the guidance of this adviser, the student carries out background research for the thesis prospectus and selects a thesis director. In the winter quarter, students complete the thesis under the supervision of their thesis director in the Honors Thesis course, CGS 196B.

In the spring quarter, each student who has successfully completed a thesis will present it in the CGS 90 undergraduate seminar.

Students who complete the Honors Seminar and the thesis with a combined grade of B+ or above and make the required oral presentation of the thesis in CGS 90 have the words "with distinction" added to the notation of the major on their diplomas and transcripts.

COURSES

LOWER-DIVISION

CGS 2A. Introduction to Critical Gender Studies: Social Movements (4)

This course will examine the role of social movements in contesting rights and representation in comparative and historical contexts. Historical examples may include: civil rights, men's movements, anti-racist feminism, women's movements, AIDS activism, transgenderism, immigrant rights, and the labor movement.

CGS 2B. Introduction to Critical Gender Studies: Gender and Institutions (4)

This course examines how gender organizes and is organized by institutions. Domains of inquiry may include family, education, medicine, technology, law, media, the workplace, immigration, and citizenship.

CGS 90. Undergraduate Seminar (1)

This seminar will introduce students to current interdisciplinary research topics and methods in the study of gender and sexuality. UCSD Faculty members, as well as distinguished outside visitors, will be invited to present their work.

UPPER-DIVISION

CGS 100: Conceptualizing Gender: Theories and Methods (4)

This course will compare the uses of gender as a category of analysis across academic disciplines in the Humanities, Social Sciences, and Natural Sciences with particular attention to research methodologies.

CGS 101: Gender, Modernity, and Globalization (4)

Considers how men and women around the globe are affected differently by modernity, modernization, and globalization. Possible topics: international consumer culture; international divisions of labor; construction of sexuality and gender in context of global movements and migrations of people, capital, culture. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 102: Selected Topics in Critical Gender Studies (4)

An interdisciplinary course focusing on one of a variety of topics in gender studies, such as gender and science, the body, reproductive technologies, public policy. May be taken for credit three times when topics vary. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 103: Feminist Theory (4)

An interdisciplinary course in feminist theory. Topics may range from a general survey of feminist theory in a variety of disciplines to a more focused interdisciplinary theoretical topic such as postmodernism and feminism. May be taken for credit three times when topics vary. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 104: Advanced Topics in Comparative Perspectives (4)

Focuses on the relationship between gender and culture from a multiplicity of perspectives. Possible topics could include gender and ethnicity, gender across class, and other topics to be examined in a cross cultural framework. May be taken for credit two times when topics vary. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 105: Queer Theory (4)

Examines the different methodologies and disciplinary histories that together constitute the interdisciplinary project called queer studies. Of particular interest will be how these different methodologies and history construe and construct the relations between gender, race, class, and nation. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 106: Gender Equality and the Law (4)

Explores the legal treatment of discrimination on the basis of gender, including equal protection doctrine and some statutory law such as Title VII. Topics include the meaning of gender equality in such areas as single-sex education, military service, sexual harassment, discrimination on the basis of pregnancy, and other current issues. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 107: Gender and Reproductive Rights (4)

Explores the legal treatment of gender, reproductive rights, and the family, particularly as evolving law has created conflicting rights, roles, and responsibilities. Topics may include abortion, fetal rights, surrogacy, marriage, and child custody issues. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 109A: Gender, Science, Technology (4)

Examines impact of gender and racialized gender on the production and uses of science and technology. Issues include (but are not limited to): racism and biotechnology, biological determinism, eugenics, plagiarism and invisible work, information technologies and access, and the politics of museums. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 109B: Gender and Information Technology (4)

Explores how gender and racialized gender affect and are affected by information technology. Through the use of feminist and race-critical approaches, the course examines the impact of information technology on workplaces, the family, gender identity, and the environment. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 110A: Women and Sport (4)

Explores the history of women and sport and changes that have taken place since the passage of Title IX (federal equity legislation) in 1972. Will explore evolution of women in sport from historical, social, racial, psychological, political, and legal perspectives. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 110B: Title IX and Gender Equity in Sports and Education (4)

Provides a comprehensive review of Title IX (1972 federal equity legislation) and its impact on gender equity in sports and education. Will explore policy interpretations, changes in educational opportunities and sports programs resulting from legislation and related court cases. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 111: Gender and the Body (4)

Various approaches to the study of gendered bodies. Possible topics to include masculinities/feminities; life-cycles; biology, culture, and identity; medical discourses and health issues. May be taken for credit three times when topics vary. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

CGS 190. Honors Seminar (4)

Interdisciplinary readings in feminist theory and research methodology to prepare students for writing

Double Major in Critical Gender Studies and Another Department or Program

Students who wish to major both in critical gender studies and in another department or program must fulfill all requirements for the critical gender studies major as described above. Students must submit a double major petition for approval by the participating departments and the student's provost. Critical gender studies will accept up to two upper-division courses which overlap requirements for the two majors.

Minor Program (and Program of Concentration)

Critical gender studies minors are required to complete the Introduction to Critical Gender Studies sequence: Critical Gender Studies 2A-B, 100, and 101 and three additional upper-division courses (twelve units) applicable to the critical gender studies major and minor. Students may take all three required upper-division courses in the same cluster area or three upper-division courses in three different cluster areas. Students who petition the critical gender studies minor (or program of concentration) with junior or senior standing may petition to substitute two comparable upper-division critical gender studies courses for Critical Gender Studies 2A or 2B. Critical gender studies permits one lower-division course and one upper-division course to be taken P/NP. College grading options vary. Please see college academic advisers and critical gender studies advisers.

Special Studies, Internships, and Grade Options

Many critical gender studies majors and minors elect to do gender research under the rubrics of Directed Group Study (198), Independent Study (199), internships, and mentor programs. Because these courses can be taken only with a P/NP grade option, the number of such courses to be applied to the major should be carefully discussed with a critical gender studies adviser. Some graduate and professional schools will consider it easier to evaluate a student's transcript if there are more letter grades. College guidelines and requirements for grade options also vary. Please see college academic advisers and critical gender studies advisers.

an honors thesis. Open to Critical Gender Studies majors who have been admitted to Critical Gender Studies Honors Program. May be applied toward primary concentration in Critical Gender Studies major. Prerequisites: admission to Critical Gender Studies Honors Program and department stamp required.

CGS 196A. Critical Gender Studies Honors Research (4)
A program of independent study providing candidates for Critical Gender Studies honors to develop, in consultation with an adviser, a preliminary proposal for the honors thesis. An IP grade will be awarded at the end of this quarter. A final grade for both quarters will be given upon completion of Critical Gender Studies 196B. Prerequisites: consent of instructor and department stamp required.

CGS 196B. Honors Thesis (4)
Honors thesis research and writing for students who have completed Critical Gender Studies 190 and 196A. A letter grade for both Critical Gender Studies 196A and 196B will be given at the completion of this quarter. Prerequisites: consent of instructor and department stamp required.

CGS 198. Directed Group Study (4)
Directed group study on a topic not generally included in the Critical Gender Studies curriculum. Prerequisites: consent of instructor and director of Critical Gender Studies Program and department stamp required.

CGS 199. Independent Study (4)
Tutorial; independent study on a topic not generally included in the curriculum. Prerequisites: consent of instructor and director of Critical Gender Studies Program and department stamp required.

CGS 500. Apprentice Teaching in Critical Gender Studies (4)
Consideration of pedagogical methods appropriate to undergraduate teaching in Critical Gender Studies courses under supervision of instructor of course. Instructor will define apprentice's responsibilities in preparing class presentations, directing student discussions, evaluating and grading students' work, and maintaining productive association with students.

CRITICAL GENDER STUDIES CLUSTER AREAS

In relation to the Critical Gender Studies Program, departmental courses fall into two categories, Applicable or Petitionable. The courses noted below are applicable: those which always apply to the CGS major and minor, whenever they are taught and under any instructor.

The second category denotes petitionable courses: either new courses not yet approved as applicable to the major/minor or courses which focus on gender only in a specific quarter and at the discretion of the instructor.

Petitionable courses can be approved by petition to the major/minor for the quarter in which they appear on the CGS quarterly list. The quarterly list—available each quarter in the CGS office and at the CGS Web site—identifies (by cluster areas) both applicable and petitionable courses offered that quarter. For reference, the office and the Web site maintain a compilation of quarterly lists.
