
Academic Services and Programs

Academic Advising

The college academic advising offices and the academic departments are the designated campus units responsible for providing official academic advice and direction to undergraduate students. The college academic advising offices and departments have primary responsibility for academic advice and services that assist new and continuing students to develop educational plans and course schedules which are compatible with their interests, academic preparation, and educational and career goals.

Academic Computing Services (ACS) plays a variety of roles relating to computing at UCSD. Among these are support of instructional computing, management of the main academic computer network, hardware repair, and administration of site agreements for the licensing and distribution of software.

Student Computing

The main function of ACS is to provide facilities for instructional computing. In addition to timesharing systems ACS maintains over 1800 workstations of various types available across campus. These include Windows, Macintosh, and UNIX workstations located in public areas, computer labs, and libraries.

A wide variety of software is available on various platforms, including general word processing, spread sheet and Web site design applications; compilers and program development tools; special purpose packages for electronic design, mechanical engineering, animation, statistics, genetic studies, and symbolic mathematics.

Beyond instructional computing, ACS provides facilities to students for popular activities such as electronic mail and other network-based communications. Incoming students receive personal account information at Orientation.

ACS has student assistants who are available at scheduled times in computer labs to help students use the facilities. These assistants complement other forms of support such as guidance from instructors and teaching assistants, and online documentation.

ACS provides both instructional and extracurricular computing services to students through a single "personalized" account. The goal is to make computing more convenient and flexible, and to allow students to pursue academic computing interests on their own initiative.

Network Management

The Office of Network Operations is a branch of ACS. Network Operations plays a major role in the management of campus computer networks and services, including the student residential network (ResNet), the campus wireless network, a dial-in modem service, Web proxy, Internet connectivity, Active Directory, the campus email gateway, and an email registry of campus members and affiliates.

Students can obtain more information about ResNet at <http://resnet.ucsd.edu> and can obtain support at that Web site or by calling (858) 822-2800.

Wireless access is available in most campus buildings and common spaces. A UCSD network login and a wireless network card are required to attach to the network. For more information, students should see <http://resnet.ucsd.edu> (Wireless Access).

To use campus dial-in lines, UCSD users must sign up and pay for dial-in service. Users will also need a network security username and password. Incoming students have these issued automatically; others may register by bringing a picture ID to the Office of Network Operations in room 2113 AP&M. Signups for dial-in service may be made at this location or via the Web at <http://www-no.ucsd.edu>.

Network Operations can assist you in connecting your computer to make use of Internet services using electronic mail and mailing lists. Information about many of these services can be found on the World Wide Web at <http://www-no.ucsd.edu>.

Network Operations Access Services is located in 2113 AP&M. The Network Operations technical help line is (858) 534-1857 or userserv@ucsd.edu. Dial-in billing questions may be directed to (858) 822-2900.

Software Licensing and Distribution

<http://software.ucsd.edu>

ACS manages agreements with several software vendors under which UCSD departments are able to license and obtain software at a discount.

Desktop Support

ACS Computer Repair and Installation also provides the UCSD community with expert hardware repair and upgrade support. They have professional certified full-time staff with extensive combined repair service and upgrade support. They repair and upgrade most computer and printer products and are available for network installation and repair. Their goal is to provide UCSD faculty, staff, and students with an efficient and cost effective solution for all their computing needs.

Other ACS Functions

ACS operates one UNIX system which is available on a fee-for-service (recharge) basis. This system is primarily used by UCSD academic departments for electronic mail and administrative purposes. ACS also has a service to distribute campus administrative data to academic departments.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTIONS:

Faculty Mentor Program

The Faculty Mentor Program offers valuable research experience to juniors and seniors who want to prepare for graduate or professional school. Participants work as research assistants to UCSD faculty members for at least ten hours per week for two quarters. Students receive four units of 199 independent study credit each quarter, attend seminars on how to write and present a research paper, and receive graduate school and fellowship information. At the conclusion of the program, students present their research papers at the annual Faculty Mentor Program Research Symposium.

Health and Medical Professions Preparation Program

HMP³ assists students in their undergraduate preparation for careers in the health professions. These include medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, veterinary, public health, nursing, and others. The program provides students with activities and resources including preprofessional seminars, review course scholarships, volunteer placement information, peer discussion series, and mentorship opportunities. Participants have access to a library of information on summer and postbaccalaureate programs, upcoming conferences, health professional schools, etc. The program also serves as a clearinghouse for information about other campus resources available to the prehealth professional student.

or university teaching. As research assistants, students work on their faculty mentor's projects for at least thirty hours per week. Students are trained in research skills, how to write and present a research proposal or paper, and how to prepare for the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). At the conclusion of the program, students present their papers at the annual UCSD Summer Research Conference.

McNair Program

The McNair Program is a U.S. Department of Education initiative designed to serve low-income, first-generation college students and underrepresented minorities who are interested in pursuing a Ph.D. It is a rigorous one-year program of scholarly activities that includes participation in the Faculty Mentor Program and the Summer Research Program. In addition, participants receive training in how to write and present a scholarly paper, preparation for the GRE, and assistance with the graduate school application process. All participants have the opportunity to present a paper at a minimum of two research conferences.

CAMP Science Program

The CAMP Science Program is funded by the California Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation in Science, Engineering and Mathematics (CAMP) grant from the National Science Foundation. This program is designed to provide support and advancement opportunities to ethnically underrepresented students who are seeking bachelor's degrees in the sciences, mathematics, engineering, and technology. Participants in this program may attend informational and skill-building workshops, tour UCSD laboratories, local companies and research institutes, attend local and/or national conferences, participate in a book exchange program, attend study break dinners and coffee with faculty events, and are eligible to earn book scholarships. In addition, students are encouraged to participate in academic year and/or summer research, and pursue graduate school preparation.

Computer Science, Engineering, and Mathematics Scholarship (CSEMS)

The Computer Science, Engineering, and Mathematics Scholarship (CSEMS) is a two- or four-year program providing research and outreach opportunities to low-income, academically talented students in the Jacobs School of Engineering and the Department of Mathematics. The chief objectives of the program are to promote full-time enrollment and degree completion.

University of California Leadership Excellence through Advanced Degrees (UC LEADS)

The University of California Leadership Excellence through Advanced Degrees (UC LEADS) is a selective two-year research program for undergraduates majoring in science, engineering, or mathematics. Students receive stipend support for two summers of research and support for travel to conferences, membership in professional associations, and other research-related activities. UC LEADS participants work on well-defined projects under the supervision of faculty mentors. The UC LEADS experience will prepare students to be competitive applicants for admission to doctoral programs, preferably within the UC system, and eventually to assume leadership positions in society.

Undergraduate Research Conference

The UCSD Undergraduate Research Conference is an annual event where more than 100 students who have written outstanding research papers are invited to present their research. Invitation is by faculty nomination. Students present their papers at small roundtable discussions led by a faculty presider.

San Diego Supercomputer Center (SDSC)

Mail code 0505
(858) 534-5000 (general inquiries)
(858) 534-5100
www.sdsc.edu

The San Diego Supercomputer Center (SDSC) is an organized research unit of UCSD focusing on computational science and engineering research. The mission of its staff of 400 scientists, software developers, and research, operations, and user support staff is to innovate, develop, and deploy technology that enables and facilitates the next generation of scientific advances. Since its inception in 1985, SDSC has served more than 10,000 researchers at 300 academic, government, and industrial institutions in the United States and abroad. These researchers use SDSC high performance computing resources to study problems in many scientific areas and to investigate new paradigms of computing. Areas of effort include:

- capability computing—providing computing and information resources of exceptional capability to enable scientific discovery at scales not previously achievable
- discovery environments—developing and deploying integrated, easy-to-use computational environments to foster scientific discovery in traditional and emerging disciplines

SDSC was founded in 1985 with a $170 million grant from the National Science Foundation's Supercomputer Centers program. In October 1997, SDSC extended its leadership in computational science and engineering to form the National Partnership for Advanced Computational Infrastructure (NPACI), teaming with approximately 40 university partners around the country. Since 2001, NPACI collaborated with four partners—the National Center for Supercomputing Applications at the University of Illinois, Argonne National Laboratory, and the Center for Advanced Computing Research at the California Institute of Technology, and the Pittsburgh Supercomputing Center—on an $88 million, multi-year effort to build the TeraGrid, (<http://www.teragrid.org>), which is the world's most powerful and most comprehensive, distributed computational infrastructure for open scientific research.

Through the NPACI and TeraGrid programs and other high performance computing initiatives, SDSC engages in:

- conducting and fostering scientific research (see "Research at UCSD")
- broadening the impact of computational science and engineering through education, outreach, and training activities
- expanding the existing infrastructure to data-intensive computing that enables management, curation, analysis, and visualization of huge amounts of data
- integrating high performance computational technology into commercial research, design, and manufacturing processes through partnerships with industry.

Current technology thrusts for SDSC and its NPACI partners include grid computing, programming tools and environments, data-intensive computing, and interaction environments. Applications thrusts are molecular science, neuroscience, Earth systems science, and engineering. Each project teams applications and technology developers, and involves representatives from multiple partner sites. This infrastructure is being developed further through partnerships with computer vendors and companies with high-performance computing applications.

The demanding research problems that are being tackled by scientists using SDSC's high performance computing power include: understanding the origin of the universe, modeling supramolecules of more than one million atoms, determining chemical reaction rates, designing new materials, simulating the human nervous system, modeling water and pollutant transport underground, and modeling climate and predicting storms.

COMPUTATIONAL RESOURCES

NPACI funding along with grants from the NSF, NIH, and other sources keep SDSC's computational resources at the state of the art and support a variety of software development projects led by faculty and staff members. SDSC computational resources include the following:

- DataStar is a 10.4 teraflops supercomputer with total shared memory of 4 terabytes. DataStar is among the 20 top supercomputers in the world and targeted at large-scale, data intensive scientific research applications.
- Under the TeraGrid program, SDSC operates two large IA-64 based clusters with a total peak speed of 4 teraflops. These systems are part of the national TeraGrid system with our partners, which is connected to the other national TeraGrid partners by a 40-Gbps cross-country backbone network.
- SDSC continues to operate Blue Horizon, a 1,152-processor IBM SP capable of 1.7 trillion calculations per second.
- SDSC has more than 540 terabytes of online disk storage as well as 6 petabytes of archival tape storage, one of the world's largest data storage installations.
- Meteor is a Linux cluster with 200 Intel processors, the biggest Linux/Intel cluster on campus. Meteor is devoted to UCSD research.
- Sun Enterprise SunFire 15000 is a 72-processor system with 288 GB memory attached to SDSC's storage area network.
- RockStar is a 128-node Sun Fire V60x supercomputer used for cluster management research.
- A visualization laboratory features advanced display systems, facilities for producing solid 3-D models of geometric data sets, and a suite for producing professional-quality videotapes of visualized research results.

RESEARCH ALLOCATIONS, RESOURCES, AND SUPPORT

UCSD faculty and students are eligible for allocations of time on SDSC's supercomputers and other NPACI resources. Undergraduate and graduate students may obtain time through applications submitted by their advisers. Such allocations should support research projects or class curricula. All proposed projects must be nonproprietary. To apply for time, applications must be submitted at least sixty days prior to the quarter in which the allocation is to begin (quarters begin January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1; allocations are typically made for twelve-month periods). Applications for relatively small amounts of time can be submitted any time and are reviewed shortly after receipt (www.npaci.edu/Allocations).

The Academic Associates Program, formerly known as the Block Grant Program, was started in 1995 to give University of California (UC) researchers access to computational resources at the San Diego Supercomputer Center (SDSC). Any UC researcher can request supercomputing time online at <http://www.sdsc.edu/aap.html>. Resources include free supercomputer time, high-performance storage, software and technical support including training and workshops. Administrators are available at each UC campus to help researchers with any questions or problems they may have regarding the Academic Associates Program. For more information, contact Natasha Balac, AAP program liaison, at natashab@sdsc.edu or (858) 534-5161.

Accounts also are available on workstations in SDSC's VisLab to any academic researcher, undergraduate, or graduate student. To apply, fill out the SDSC Workstation Access Request form, which is available from Rachel Chrisman, chrismar@sdsc.edu, (858) 534-5025. Each form is reviewed to ensure that the goals of the applicant are consistent with the mission of SDSC. This review process takes two to four weeks.

Researchers with access to SDSC's resources are supported by SDSC's consulting staff and other staff at the University of Texas and the University of Michigan. SDSC consultants are available through the Web (www.npaci.edu/Consult) 5 a.m.–5 p.m. (Pacific Time), Monday–Friday. Researchers and students with accounts are welcome to attend SDSC's periodic training workshops, which usually are free (www.npaci.edu/Training).

ADDITIONAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE CAMPUS COMMUNITY

SDSC offers the following additional opportunities for UCSD faculty, staff, and students:

- Access to high-performance computers through UCSD classes—Many UCSD classes make use of the SDSC resources, providing a hands-on way to learn about high-performance computing. Check class listings for biology, chemistry and biochemistry, computer science and engineering, mechanical and aerospace engineering, Scripps Institution of Oceanography, and UCSD Extension.

Disabilities, Office for Students with (OSD)

202 University Center
(858) 534-4382 (Voice/TDD)
(858) 534-4650 (Fax)
<http://orpheus-l.ucsd.edu/osd/>

The Office for Students with Disabilities (OSD) facilitates student independence, academic/social success, and self-advocacy through access to campus programs, services, and facilities. OSD works directly with students and academic departments on development of effective planning and adaptation. OSD serves as a liaison to UCSD academic departments, the campus community, and off-campus disability-related agencies. Service coordination may include disability management counseling, note takers, sign language interpreters, real-time captionists, readers, typists, library/laboratory assistants, special equipment loans/minor repair, priority registration/enrollment assistance, on-campus housing coordination, exam accommodations, on-campus transportation/parking coordination, and referrals. College learning skills seminars (including memory strategies, note-taking, test taking, time management, and study skills) are offered on an individual and small group basis in collaboration with OASIS. In addition, OSD provides disability awareness through maintenance of a resource library of books, periodicals, articles, films, video formats, and an online quarterly newsletter, Aware.

Students who have been diagnosed as having a disability should consult promptly with a qualified specialist at the Office of Students with Disabilities (OSD), as only students registered with OSD are eligible for accommodation in classes. In order to implement an OSD-approved accommodation for examinations or assignments, students must meet with the course instructor within the first two weeks of the quarter and present a certificate from OSD recommending the appropriate accommodations.

If the student's disability has been certified by OSD, the course instructor should accommodate the student's needs. Faculty are not responsible for determining what accommodations are appropriate for a particular student. If an instructor is presented with a claim of a disability by a student who has not been certified by OSD, the course instructor should refer the student to OSD and not become personally involved in diagnosing or evaluating the seriousness of the disability. OSD is available to assist instructors in providing accommodation. If for any reason an instructor cannot meet the request, the department chair and OSD should be promptly consulted.

The full text of the Policy on Students with Disabilities and Steps for Academic Accommodation has been posted to the Academic Senate Web site (as an Appendix to the San Diego Division Regulations), at the following address: <http://www-senate.ucsd.edu/apxtoc.html>.

Applying for Financial Aid

A student is eligible for financial aid if she or he:

1. Is a United States citizen or eligible noncitizen.
2. Has a valid social security number.
3. Is not in default on a federal student loan or has made satisfactory arrangements to repay it.
4. Does not owe money back on a federal student grant or has made satisfactory arrangements to repay it.
5. Is registered with Selective Service (males at least eighteen years old, unless not required).
6. Is enrolled at UCSD (minimum of six units per quarter) in a degree or certificate program. Limited status students (non-degree/non-certificate) enrolled in a course of study necessary to be accepted in a degree or certificate program are only eligible for one year of Federal Stafford Loan(s). After one year, these limited status students are not eligible for any financial aid funding.
7. Is making satisfactory academic progress for financial aid recipients.

Students must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress as a condition for maintaining eligibility for financial aid. For UCSD undergraduate financial aid recipients the standards are thirty-six units (or an average of twelve units per quarter for full-time enrollment) and an overall grade-point average of 2.0 during the current academic year and the following summer (similar unit requirements apply to graduate students who must maintain a 3.0 minimum GPA). Under-graduate students are considered for all financial aid sources up to their fifth year of college attendance (except for Cal Grants) and limited funding up to their sixth year. For graduate student duration requirements and for more detailed information on UCSD's Satisfactory Academic Progress standards for students enrolled full-time in a degree program, please see our Web site at www.ucsd.edu/finaid. For policy information on approved part-time status students, limited status and extension students, please contact the Financial Aid Office.

For evaluation of financial need, all applicants must submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or renewal FAFSA and, if requested, copies of the 2003 federal income tax returns, and any other required documents. The FAFSA form should be filed by March 3, 2004, the UCSD priority filing date, with the appropriate processing agency and must indicate the University of California, San Diego (list Federal School Code 001317) to receive a processed copy of the FAFSA. Late applicants will be considered for limited aid.

Receiving Financial Aid

UC financial aid for students with demonstrated financial need is funded by a combination, or "package," of gift and self-help aid. Grants and scholarships are awards that do not have to be repaid. Self-help aid may consist of a loan, which does have to be repaid, or a work-study award, earned by working a part-time job while attending school, or a combination of both. UCSD ensures that students in similar circumstances receive similar packages. Grant funds are directed to the most needy students. Students who are nonresidents of California should note that need-based financial aid funds are not sufficient to meet the additional cost of nonresident tuition ($13,730 during 2003–2004). The family should be prepared to provide this amount from their own personal resources or educational loan programs. The various types of aid and programs which may be included in need-based packages are listed below:

Federal Pell Grant

The Federal Pell Grant program is designed to provide financial assistance to undergraduates attending postsecondary educational institutions. Amounts range from $400–$4,050 for 2004–2005.

University of California Grant Program

The University of California Grant Program provides grants to undergraduate and graduate students.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG)

SEOG awards are federally funded and are available only to undergraduates. Awards may range from $100 to $4,000 per academic year.

Cal Grants (Undergraduate)

Cal Grants are awarded by the California Student Aid Commission to undergraduate California residents. All resident applicants for UCSD aid are required to apply for a Cal Grant. To be considered as a new winner, the FAFSA or renewal FAFSA and the GPA Verification Form must be postmarked prior to March 3, 2004. Current recipients must file a FAFSA or a renewal FAFSA each year to have their award renewed.

Repayable Scholarships/Fellowships for Teaching Credential Students

The Cal Grant T is awarded by the California Student Aid Commission to students who have been accepted into the Teaching Credential Program. The Governor's Teaching Fellowship (GTF) Program is administered by the California State University system. Those wishing to apply need to contact the UCSD Teacher Education Program at (858) 534-1680.

Work-Study

Federal and state work-study awards are employment programs that provide funds for student employment by the university or by public and private profit/nonprofit organizations. The work-study program provides experience in many fields, including experimental sciences, library work, recreation, computer sciences, peer counseling, and office work. Pay ranges from minimum wage and above. Job listings and referrals are provided through the Career Services Center.

Federal Perkins Loans

This loan carries a 5 percent interest rate. Students begin paying both the principal and the interest nine months after ceasing to be enrolled at least half-time.

Federal Subsidized Stafford Loans

The annual maximum allowed during the first year of undergraduate study is $2,625. Sophomores can borrow an annual maximum of $3,500, and the yearly limit for juniors and seniors is $5,500, with an undergraduate cumulative maximum of $23,000. Graduate students may borrow up to $8,500 per academic year with an aggregate sum up to $65,000, including the amount borrowed as an undergraduate. The interest rate for new borrowers is variable, not to exceed 8.25 percent. The 2003–2004 rate was 2.82 percent.

The federal government pays (subsidizes) the interest on the student's behalf during in-school (enrolled in six units or more), grace, and authorized deferment periods. Repayment of principal and interest begins six months after the borrower leaves school or ceases to be enrolled as a half-time student.

Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loans

Students who do not have financial need eligibility for the maximum Federal Stafford Loan may borrow under this program. The annual maximum and interest rate are the same as the Subsidized Stafford Loan. Independent undergraduates may borrow an additional $4,000–$5,000 annually; graduate students may borrow an additional $10,000 annually. The maximums include amounts borrowed under the Federal Stafford Loan program. Aggregate maximums are $23,000 for dependent undergraduates, $46,000 for independent undergraduates, and $138,500 for graduate students. The interest is not paid on the student's behalf. Interest begins accruing immediately after disbursement, but payment of principal and interest may be deferred until six months after ceasing to be enrolled for six units or more. The amount borrowed cannot exceed the cost of education minus other financial aid resources (including other need-based loans).

Federal PLUS Loans for Parents

Parents of dependent undergraduate students are eligible to borrow under this program if they have no adverse credit history and meet program eligibility requirements. The interest rate for this loan is variable, but not to exceed 9 percent. In 2003–2004, the interest rate was 4.22 percent. Parents are eligible to borrow up to the cost of education minus other financial aid (including other loans). The first payment is due within sixty days after disbursement by the lender.

Triton Registration Installment Plan (TRIP)

The UCSD Triton Registration Installment Plan (TRIP), administered by the Student Business Services (SBS), is a monthly payment arrangement and is available for students who desire an alternative method of financing their registration fees on a short-term basis. All students in good financial and academic standing are eligible for the program, except for those students whose financial aid or graduate support will pay their registration fees by the quarterly registration fee due date. A prerequisite to applying for the program is enrollment for the term. The TRIP allows registration fees to be paid in up to three installments each quarter. On a three-month plan, the first payment is required by the quarterly registration due date. The remaining payments are itemized on the student's next two monthly UCSD Billing Statements. There is a $30 nonrefundable quarterly fee that must be submitted with the application to the Billing Services unit of the Student Business Services Office. This fee is strictly used to offset the costs of the program. For further information, please contact the Billing Services Unit at (858) 534-6806, or online at: <http://www-bfs.ucsd.edu/bur>.

Short-Term Emergency Loans

The limited emergency loan funds, administered by the Financial Aid Office, are loaned in small amounts to help students in critical short-term emergencies, and usually must be repaid within thirty days. There currently is a service charge of $20 per emergency loan, and students must be enrolled in at least six units. Registration fees must be paid prior to applying. Applications and further information are available from the Financial Aid Office.

Federal Tax Credits

Two federal tax credits may benefit you or your parents, if the grants and scholarships you receive do not fully cover your fees. Both tax credits are tied to the tuition and fees paid for college.

The Hope Scholarship Credit (up to $1,500) is available for the first two years of at-least-half-time enrollment in postsecondary education.

The Lifetime Learning Credit (up to $1,000 per tax year) is available for postsecondary enrollment at any level.

THE UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The purpose of the Undergraduate Scholarship Program at UCSD is to recognize outstanding achievement, to encourage academic excellence, and to offer support to meritorious students.

Scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis by the UCSD Faculty Committee on Undergraduate Scholarships and Honors. Merit scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic excellence. Restricted scholarships are awarded based on one or more additional criteria or restrictions such as financial need, study in a particular major, or leadership. Students who are awarded scholarships restricted by financial need must file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) in order to receive the award. Additionally, undergraduate research scholarships are offered to current students which enable them to pursue special studies and projects under faculty supervision.

UCSD is actively engaged in developing new scholarship opportunities. Many of these awards were established through the generous support of individual sponsors, foundations, businesses, and community organizations. Every gift toward undergraduate scholarships is appreciated and appropriately recognized. Further information about supporting scholarships at UCSD may be obtained from Kim Signoret Paar, director of Student Affairs Development. Ms. Signoret may be reached at (858) 822-1536. Her address is 9500 Gilman Drive, La Jolla CA 92093-0937.

You may view a listing of scholarships, financial aid resources, and information on outside agency scholarship opportunities on the UCSD Financial Aid Office (FAO) Web page at: <http://www.ucsd.edu/finaid>.

The Scholarship Office is part of the UCSD Financial Aid Office and is located in Building 201, University Center, 9500 Gilman Drive, La Jolla, CA 92093-0013. Office hours are from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. HOW TO APPLY FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

Entering Students

The University of California Application for Undergraduate Admission and Scholarships is also used to apply for the UCSD Regents and other campus scholarships. No other paperwork is required. The application is submitted in November for the following academic year. Because scholarships are awarded to entering students on a very competitive basis, students should carefully comply with instructions on the UC Application for Undergraduate Admission and Scholarships to ensure full consideration for all eligible scholarships. Entering students who receive a scholarship from UCSD will be notified in writing before May 1. We regret that we are unable to mail denial notification letters to other applicants.

Current UCSD Students

Current UCSD students apply for scholarships annually during winter quarter for the following fall quarter by filing the UCSD Continuing Student Scholarship Application. This application is available online via StudentLink in February and is due in April. Current students who receive a scholarship from UCSD will be notified in writing by the end of June. Students who do not receive an award will not be notified due to the large volume of applications.

The International Center assists U.S. students going abroad as well as international students, scholars and families, and facilitates interaction among all internationally minded UCSD students, faculty, and staff.

Services to students going abroad include advising on a wide range of study, work, and travel opportunities through the UCSD Programs Abroad Office, and administration of the system-wide UC Education Abroad Program.

The International Student/Scholar Office serves as the liaison with government agencies for all nonimmigrants, and advises international students, researchers, faculty, and campus departments about immigration and visa matters. The office also provides pre-arrival information, orientation, and check-in for new students and scholars. The Friends of the International Center provide additional services and programs to international visitors and their family members.

Housing

OFF-CAMPUS HOUSING

Off-Campus Housing is a rental listing referral and housing information resource center. This office receives and maintains up-to-date available rentals from people in the community within the various areas near campus. The rental listings include individual houses, apartments, and condos, as well as roommates, rooms in private homes, and work-exchange situations.

The most popular housing situation involves sharing a house, condo, or apartment with other UCSD students.

The university is located in the midst of a resort area that results in relatively high rent in the coastal towns of San Diego: Del Mar and Solana Beach to the north of campus, La Jolla, and Pacific Beach to the south. A general rule of thumb: the closer to the beach, the higher the rent.

Available through this office are helpful landlord/tenant materials such as: leases, room rental agreements, bus schedules, wall maps, a courtesy phone for local calling, and a variety of house-hunting aids.

Our Web site is useful for students and others unable to come into the office. Search through up-to-date rental listings and available roommates on our online database. Downloadable rental agreement forms are available. Links to local papers allow access to the classifieds. In addition, answers to frequently asked questions ease anxiety regarding a housing search.

Services are available to registered students, staff, faculty, and alumni of the University of California only. You must show a current UC ID card or official Letter of Acceptance to receive rental contacts. Rental referrals are not mailed, faxed, or given out over the telephone. The office staff will be happy to assist you with any housing questions or concerns. Our office is located in the Student Center, Building A, Suite 200-202 on the second floor.

UNDERGRADUATE RESIDENTIAL HOUSING

Each college houses students in residence halls and/or apartments that are part of a single housing system on campus. While facilities at each college are occupied primarily by students registered at that college, students from other colleges may also be residents.

Residence Halls and Apartments

Residence halls are arranged in suites of eight to ten students who share a study/living room and restroom facilities. Apartments are self-contained units with kitchens, bathrooms, living areas, and combinations of two, three, or four bedrooms. Typically four to five students share an apartment. While incoming freshmen are generally assigned space in residence halls, high demand for on-campus housing has resulted in the assignment of apartment spaces for many incoming freshmen. Rooms are furnished and provide ample space for effective studying, sleeping, and storing of personal belongings, books, and clothes.

Each college's resident dean makes specific room assignments in early September when the majority of spaces are filled. Housing and Dining Administrative Services Office administers all other details related to housing contracts.

General Information

The Living On Campus Housing Application Instructions Information Brochure was mailed in mid-March to all who were admitted to UCSD. Only online applications were accepted and students were given instructions on how to apply for on-campus housing via Student Link. To be eligible for on-campus housing, the Housing Application and the Statement of Intent to Register form must have been received by the specified deadline dates. On-campus housing spaces will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis according to the date the housing application was received in the Housing and Dining Administrative Services Office. The priority system is explained in detail in the Living On Campus Housing Brochure.

Housing application deadline for fall 2004-05 was May 3, 2004 for incoming freshmen. Due to high demand, transfer students will not receive on-campus housing. Psychological and Counseling Services provide professional assistance with a wide array of personal difficulties that may interfere with academic success. Specific concerns for which students often seek assistance include loneliness and isolation, homesickness, parent/family/partner conflict, difficulty studying, concentrating or test-taking, challenges in interpersonal relations and communication, educational/career concerns, identity issues, sexuality, depression, and anxiety. Students often consult with counselors when experiencing a variety of life issues, transitions, or emotional situations. In order to enhance the UCSD student experience, Psychological and Counseling Services professionals also offer consultation to the university at large regarding a wide range of student issues.

Individual counseling, psychotherapy, marriage or relationship counseling, family sessions, and many issue-focused groups are provided to support the emotional and social growth of students. During the course of a year, special forums, psychotherapy groups, support groups, and psycho-educational groups are offered to students according to their needs and the demand for services. Listings are posted quarterly on the Web site.

Psychological and Counseling Services are geared toward developing a positive and robust mental health climate in the university community. The emphasis is on helping students maintain healthy lifestyles so that they may enjoy a sense of wellness, express themselves with confidence, manifest their creativity and productivity, manage stress successfully, and engage in interpersonal relations as they achieve their career goals.

Psychological and Counseling Services staff are clinical and counseling psychologists and psychologists-in-training. Student peer counselors present programs concerning a variety of topics to student groups throughout the year. In order to provide greater accessibility, the service has offices in all colleges in addition to the central location. Services are available to any currently enrolled undergraduate or graduate student, and appointments can be arranged by contacting the central office. INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS AT UCSD

<http://athletics.ucsd.edu>

With 23 intercollegiate teams to choose from the UC San Diego Athletics program provides students with varying interests the opportunity to participate in a highly-competitive program. As a non-scholarship institution, UCSD's Tritons have competed in the NCAA Division III, achieving national prominence in nearly every sport. In 1998, UCSD won the Sears Directors' Cup, which is awarded to the nation's top overall athletics program in the NCAA Division III. In the fall of 2000, UCSD moved to Division II and immediately captured an NCAA Championship in Women's Soccer while finishing runner-up in the NCAA Water Polo Championship.

Triton teams have captured 94 first-, second-, and third-place national finishes, led by Women's Volleyball's seven titles. Women's Soccer has won six championships, followed by Women's Water Polo with five, Women's Tennis with four, Men's Soccer with three and Men's Golf with one national championship. Individually, 90 Tritons have won national championships while a remarkable 721 have earned All-American Recognition. Tritons have been named Academic All-Americans on 122 occasions and 10 student/athletes have been awarded the prestigious NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship.

Sports offered for men and women include basketball, crew, cross country, fencing, soccer, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, volleyball, and water polo. Men's baseball, men's golf, and women's softball are also offered.

With the move to Division II, most teams now compete in the California Collegiate Athletic Association, widely considered to be the top Division II athletic conference in the country.

In addition to athletic competition, UCSD students may get involved through support groups, game management, and internships. The UCSD Pep Band has grown steadily in recent years and is a fixture of spirit at all basketball and volleyball events. In 1999, the Triton Tide made its debut as a student booster club, and students may also join the UCSD Cheerleaders, the UCSD Twirl Flag Team, or the UCSD Dance Team. In addition to the student groups, Triton Athletic Associates, a booster group of parents, alumni, and friends assists UCSD Athletics with much-needed financial support. Students interested in a firsthand experience in the operations of an athletics program should check into opportunities to work in game management, which provides the staff for all home athletic events, or inquire about internships within the Athletics Department.

<http://studenthealth.ucsd.edu>

General medical appointments, some specialty clinics, in-house laboratory and x-ray, as well as health education programs are provided at no charge to all registration-paying students during the academic quarters. Summer access to Student Health Service (SHS) is at no additional charge for students with the university student health insurance plans (USHIP or GSHIP). Continuing students waiving USHIP or GSHIP are charged a summer health fee.

Reduced fees are charged for pharmaceuticals, contraceptives, travel immunizations, and laboratory tests sent to our reference lab. If you have USHIP or GSHIP many fees are covered. A Vision Clinic is available at modest fees and offers eye glasses, designer frames, lenses, sunglasses, contacts, and eye exams. If you have USHIP or GSHIP additional discounts apply.

Although undergraduate, graduate, medical, and international students may have unlimited visits with Student Health Service (SHS), students requiring medical or surgical care from practitioners, hospitals, or clinics other than SHS should be prepared to assume the cost of such care.

Starting fall term 2001, the University of California Board of Regents established a requirement that all undergraduate students have mandatory major medical health insurance as a nonacademic condition of enrollment. The Undergraduate Student Health Insurance Plan (USHIP) provides benefits for ambulance, emergency room, hospitalization, certain outpatient services, surgery, and major medical expenses with written SHS referral. USHIP also includes benefits for a dental plan, pharmaceuticals, and intramural, club, and intercollegiate sports. Discounts at the SHS Vision Clinic are included. The cost for USHIP is factored into grants, loans, and work-study programs offered to students who receive financial assistance. Students covered by health insurance meeting certain criteria can waive USHIP by completing information on STUDENTLINK prior to posted deadlines. Only one waiver per year can be filed on STUDENTLINK; for additional changes, requests, and information contact the USHIP office at (858) 822-5980. The campus-based insurance plans do not replace the primary medical care and referral services provided by the Student Health Service.

Participation in the Graduate Student Health Insurance Plan (GSHIP) is mandatory for all graduate, professional, and international students. GSHIP provides benefits for certain outpatient services, hospitalization, surgery, and major medical expenses by written referral of SHS. GSHIP also contains a dental and pharmaceutical benefits and optometry discounts at the SHS clinic. The fee for GSHIP is paid by the university for graduate and professional students holding academic appointments of 25 percent time or more.

Brochures describing these insurance plans, their limitations, exclusions, and open enrollment periods are available at Student Health Service and through the SHS Web page at <http://studenthealth.ucsd.edu>. The insurance coordinators and are available to assist students:

SARC outlines procedures to follow if a sex offense occurs, if a victim reports to law enforcement, and/or uses the on-campus disciplinary process.
