UCSD ISIS MAJOR CODES CODING SCHEME

This list is in order by department, by student level within department, and by major code within level. Jacobs School of Engineering departments are grouped together and listed first. Health Sciences are grouped together and appear on the last page.

Brief Description This scheme uses a code which appears as a sequential number within a department grouping. Since ISIS displays the short Description with the Major Code on screens and reports, a descriptive element is available for viewing.

Coding Rules The code is in the format of AANN, where AA is a two-character alpha code for the department and NN is a sequentially assigned number within blocks for the majors within that department. For example, within department AA:

AA00 Grouped (non-specific) Pre-Majors Not Convertible to Individual Pre-Majors at Implementation.
AA01-24: Undergraduate Pre-Majors
AA25-49: Undergraduate Majors
AA50-74: Undergraduate Honors Program Majors
AA75-99: Graduate and School of Medicine Majors

Additional Rules 1. If a major had a unique local code in previous systems, a unique code has been assigned in ISIS, except where the local code was assigned only to distinguish between awards. In that case a single ISIS major code has been used and another data element(s) is used to differentiate the award a student is pursuing. (See notes following specific majors.)

Examples: Anthro-Biological
CSE Computer Science (different local codes for different awards)

2. If the major name changes, a unique ISIS major code will be assigned to each major name. Students who opt to graduate with the old major name will remain in the old code. Students who opt to graduate with the new major name will be changed to the new code. This will allow overlapping date ranges for the "same" major, so that both names can be used concurrently during the phase out of the old name. However, it will mean that reports will list each group of students separately, rather than in one group.

Benefits: The scheme is independent of CSS and local code usage. If a change in the major name takes place, a new ISIS major code can be added to the table with no additional action. If the CSS code changes, only an external interface translation table need be changed, not individual student records.

All pre-majors, majors, honors programs, etc., can be accommodated by assigning separate ISIS major codes.

SUMMER SESSIONS

The following major codes will be used to track the origin of non-UCSD Summer Sessions students in order to support the tracking requirements of the Summer Sessions Office and UCOP reporting requirements. These codes are for internal use only and should not be published.

As these codes are for special purpose use, we have departed from our usual major coding structure and allowed all-alpha major codes to facilitate their use by Summer Sessions' staff. NOTE: Any additional Summer Sessions' major codes will require modifications to the CSS "Third Week" and End of Term extracts for summer.
