Academic Computing Services (ACS) plays a variety of computing roles at UCSD. Among these are support of instructional computing, management of the main academic network, hardware repair, and administration of software site licenses.

Student Computing

The main function of ACS is to provide facilities for instructional computing. In addition to timesharing systems, ACS maintains over 1800 workstations of various types available across campus. These include Windows, Macintosh, and UNIX workstations located in public areas, computer labs, and libraries.

A wide variety of software is available on various platforms, including general word processing, spread sheet and Web site design applications; compilers and program development tools; special purpose packages for electronic design, mechanical engineering, animation, statistics, genetic studies, and symbolic mathematics.

Beyond instructional computing, ACS provides facilities to students for popular activities such as email, personal Web sites, and other network-based communications. Incoming students receive personal account information at Orientation.

ACS has student assistants who are available at scheduled times in computer labs to help students use the facilities. These assistants complement other forms of support such as guidance from instructors and teaching assistants, and online documentation.

ACS provides both instructional and extracurricular computing services to students through a single "personalized" account. The goal is to make computing more convenient and flexible, and to allow students to pursue academic computing interests on their own initiative.

Network Operations

(858) 534-1857
<http://www-no.ucsd.edu>

Network Operations plays a major role in the management of campus computer networks and services, including the student residential network (ResNet), the campus wireless network, a dial-in modem service, Web proxy, Internet connectivity, Active Directory, the campus email gateway, and an email registry of campus members and affiliates.

Students can obtain more information about ResNet at <http://resnet.ucsd.edu> and can obtain support at that Web site or by calling (858) 822-2800.

Wireless access is available in most campus buildings and common spaces. A UCSD network login and a wireless network card are required to attach to the network. For more information, students should see <http://resnet.ucsd.edu> (Wireless Network).

To use campus dial-in lines, UCSD users must sign up and pay for dial-in service. Users will also need a network security username and password. Incoming students have these issued automatically.

Network Operations can assist you in connecting your computer to make use of Internet services, including checking email, managing spam, and subscribing to UCSD mailing lists.

For more information, email userserv@ucsd.edu. Dial-in billing questions may be directed to (858) 822-2900.

Software Licensing and Distribution

(858) 534-9676
<http://software.ucsd.edu>

ACS manages agreements with several software vendors under which UCSD departments are able to license and obtain software at a discount. For more information, email software@ucsd.edu.

Desktop Support

(858) 822-0047

<http://desktop.ucsd.edu>

PROGRAM DESCRIPTIONS:

Faculty Mentor Program

The Faculty Mentor Program offers valuable research experience to juniors and seniors who want to prepare for graduate or professional school. Participants work as research assistants to UCSD faculty members for at least ten hours per week for two quarters. Students receive four units of 199 independent study credit each quarter, attend seminars on various topics, including how to write and present a research paper, and receive graduate school and fellowship information. At the conclusion of the program, students present their research papers at the annual Faculty Mentor Program Research Symposium.

Health and Medical Professions Preparation Program

HMP³ assists students in their undergraduate preparation for careers in the health professions. These include medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, veterinary, public health, nursing, and others. The program provides students with activities and resources including preprofessional seminars, review course scholarships, volunteer placement information, peer discussion series, and mentorship opportunities. Participants have access to a library of information on summer and postbaccalaureate programs, upcoming conferences, health professional schools, etc. The program also serves as a clearinghouse for information about other campus resources available to the pre-health professional student.

Summer Research Program

The Summer Research Program offers a paid, full-time research experience to students who are interested in preparing for careers in research or university teaching. As research assistants, students work on their faculty mentor's projects for at least thirty hours per week. Students are trained in research skills, how to write and present a research proposal or paper, and how to prepare for the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). At the conclusion of the program, students present their papers at the annual UCSD Summer Research Conference.

McNair Program

The McNair Program is a U.S. Department of Education initiative designed to serve low-income, first-generation college students and underrepresented minorities who are interested in pursuing a Ph.D. It is a rigorous one-year program of scholarly activities that includes participation in the Faculty Mentor Program and the Summer Research Program. In addition, participants receive training in how to write and present a scholarly paper, preparation for the GRE, and assistance with the graduate school application process. All participants have the opportunity to present a paper at a minimum of two research conferences.

CAMP Science Program

The CAMP Science Program is funded by the California Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation in Science, Engineering, and Mathematics (CAMP) grant from the National Science Foundation. This program is designed to provide support and advancement opportunities to ethnically underrepresented students who are seeking bachelor's degrees in the sciences, mathematics, engineering, and technology. Participants in this program may attend informational and skill-building workshops, tour UCSD laboratories, local companies and research institutes, attend local and/or national conferences, participate in a book exchange program, attend study break dinners and coffee with faculty events, and are eligible to earn book scholarships. In addition, students are encouraged to participate in academic year and/or summer research, and pursue graduate school.

Computer Science, Engineering, and Mathematics Scholarship (CSEMS)

The Computer Science, Engineering, and Mathematics Scholarship (CSEMS) is a two- or four-year program providing research and outreach opportunities to low-income, academically talented students in the Jacobs School of Engineering and the Department of Mathematics. The chief objectives of the program are to promote full-time enrollment and degree completion.

University of California Leadership Excellence through Advanced Degrees (UC LEADS)

The University of California Leadership Excellence through Advanced Degrees (UC LEADS) is a selective two-year research program for undergraduates majoring in science, engineering, or mathematics. Students receive stipend support for two summers of research and support for travel to conferences, membership in professional associations, and other research-related activities. UC LEADS participants work on well-defined projects under the supervision of faculty mentors. The UC LEADS experience will prepare students to be competitive applicants for admission to doctoral programs, preferably within the UC system, and eventually to assume leadership positions in society.

Undergraduate Research Conference

The UCSD Undergraduate Research Conference is an annual event where more than 100 students who have written outstanding research papers are invited to present their research. Invitation is by faculty nomination. Students present their papers at small roundtable discussions led by a faculty presider.

San Diego Supercomputer Center (SDSC)

Mail code 0505
(858) 534-5000 (general inquiries)
(858) 534-5100
www.sdsc.edu

Over the past two decades, the San Diego Supercomputer Center (SDSC) has enabled science and engineering discoveries through advances in computational science and high-performance computing. Data is an overriding theme in SDSC activities. By developing and providing data cyberinfrastructure, the center acts as a strategic resource to science, industry, and academia, offering leadership in the areas of data management, grid computing, bioinformatics, geoinformatics, and high-end computing. The mission of SDSC is to extend the reach of the scientific community by providing data-oriented technology resources above and beyond the limits of what is available in the local laboratory, department, and university environment. SDSC is an organized research unit of UCSD with a staff of scientists, software developers, and support personnel, primarily funded by the National Science Foundation (NSF).

Over the years, SDSC has served more than 10,000 researchers at 300 academic, government, and industrial institutions in the United States and around the world. Today, these scientists and engineers increasingly rely on the availability of integrated data cyberinfrastructure tools such as hardware, software, and human support to drive research and education. Cyberinfrastructure provides a broad and useful spectrum of integrated technologies to support increasingly complex, data-intensive, and collaborative scientific endeavors.

When an application's or research project's technological needs outgrow the capabilities of their home environment, cyberinfrastructure extends the reach of the scientist by providing needed storage, high-speed networking, archiving and preservation, high-performance computing, and other resources remotely. SDSC provides both the tools and the facilities that integrate a user's home environment with a high-end, resource-rich, remote environment. Users can take advantage of SDSC's visualization, interdisciplinary expertise, and other resources to extend their home environments and accomplish their goals.

To meet the modern scientist's and engineer's extreme data needs, the center provides an integrated set of software and user services including:

- an internationally renowned environment for data management, mining, curation, analysis, visualization, access and preservation, as well as leadership-class storage technologies
- a broad spectrum of software tools, portals, workbenches, and packages integrated to enable users to develop and deploy complex applications

- professional user services that enable users to make the most out of cutting-edge hardware, software, and information resources
- a range of collaboration vehicles for working with partners on strategic and community applications, data collections, and projects
- an advanced cyberinfrastructure laboratory that provides an environment for designing, developing, and testing software and hardware systems at scale
- Data Central, a computational and storage infrastructure for community data collections. The Data Central team helps researchers from a wide variety of scientific domains to manage, mine, analyze, publish, and share datasets

Along with these tools, SDSC also offers users full-time support including 24-hour helpdesk services, code optimization, training, portal development, and a variety of other services.

SDSC was founded in 1985 with a $170 million grant from the National Science Foundation's Supercomputer Centers program. From 1997 to 2004, SDSC extended its leadership in computational science and engineering to form the National Partnership for Advanced Computational Infrastructure (NPACI), teaming with approximately forty university partners around the country.

SDSC collaborates with eight partners—including the National Center for Supercomputing Applications at the University of Illinois, Argonne National Laboratory, the Center for Advanced Computing Research at the California Institute of Technology and the Pittsburgh Supercomputing Center—in the TeraGrid project. This multiyear effort builds and maintains the world's most powerful and comprehensive distributed computational infrastructure for open scientific research.

The demanding research problems that are being tackled by the scientists using SDSC's cyberinfrastructure tools are numerous and diverse. A few key programs focus on understanding the origin of the universe, visualizing earthquakes, providing data management for disaster recovery organizations, modeling proteins, simulating the human nervous system, and predicting climate changes.

COMPUTATIONAL RESOURCES

NSF funding along with grants from the NIH and other sources keep SDSC's computational resources at the state of the art and support a variety of software development projects led by faculty and staff members. SDSC computational resources include the following:

- DataStar is a 15.6 teraflops IBM Power 4 based supercomputer with total shared memory of 7 terabytes. DataStar is among the top supercomputers in the world and is targeted at large-scale, data intensive scientific research applications.
- Under the TeraGrid program, SDSC operates a large IA-64 based cluster with a total peak speed of 4 teraflops. This system is part of the national TeraGrid system connected to the other TeraGrid partners by a 40-Gbps cross-country backbone network.
- SDSC has more than one petabyte of online disk storage as well as 6 petabytes of archival tape storage capacity, one of the world's largest data storage installations.
- Meteor is a Linux cluster with 200 Intel processors, the biggest Linux/Intel cluster on campus. Meteor is devoted to UCSD research.
- Sun Enterprise SunFire 15000 is a 72-processor system with 288 GB memory attached to SDSC's storage area network.
- RockStar is a 128-node Sun Fire V60x supercomputer used for cluster management research.
- A visualization laboratory features advanced display systems, facilities for producing solid 3-D models of geometric data sets, and a suite for producing professional-quality videotapes of visualized research results.
- Data Central, a computational and storage infrastructure for community data collections.

RESEARCH ALLOCATIONS, RESOURCES, AND SUPPORT

UCSD faculty and students are eligible for free allocations of time on SDSC's supercomputers, data, and other resources. Such allocations can support research projects or class curricula. Undergraduate and graduate students may obtain time through requests submitted by their advisers. All proposed projects must be nonproprietary. Requests for relatively small amounts of time (such as for class accounts or student projects) can be submitted any time and are reviewed shortly after receipt. To apply for larger amounts of time, requests must be submitted prior to the quarter in which the allocation is to begin (quarters begin January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1). Allocations are typically made for twelve-month periods. See www.sdsc.edu/user_services/allocations.

The Academic Associates Program (AAP), formerly known as the Block Grant Program, was started in 1995 to give University of California researchers free access to SDSC's state-of-the-art resources. Resources include supercomputer time, high-performance storage, software and technical support, training, and workshops. Any UC researcher can request supercomputing time or storage resources online at www.sdsc.edu/user_services/aap. Administrators are available at each UC campus to help researchers with any questions or problems regarding the Academic Associates Program. For more information, contact Subhashini Sivagnanam, AAP liaison, at sivagnan@sdsc.edu or (858) 822-3662.

All researchers with access to SDSC's resources are supported by SDSC's consulting staff, who are available online (www.sdsc.edu/user_services/consulting), by phone, or by email: 9 a.m.–5 p.m. (Pacific Time), Monday–Friday. Researchers and students with accounts are welcome to attend SDSC's periodic training workshops (www.sdsc.edu/user_services/training).

ADDITIONAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE CAMPUS COMMUNITY

SDSC offers the following additional opportunities for UCSD faculty, staff, and students:

Disabilities, Office for Students with (OSD)

202 University Center

(858) 534-4650 (Fax)
<http://osd.ucsd.edu>

The Office for Students with Disabilities (OSD) facilitates student independence, self-advocacy, and academic success through access to campus programs, services, and facilities. OSD works with students, academic departments, and the colleges on development of effective planning and adaptation. OSD serves as a liaison to UCSD academic departments, the campus community, and off-campus disability-related agencies. Service coordination may include disability management counseling, note takers, sign language interpreters, real-time captionists, readers, typists, library/laboratory assistants, special equipment loans/minor repair, priority registration/enrollment assistance, on-campus housing coordination, exam accommodations, intra-campus transportation/parking coordination, and refer-

als. College learning skills seminars (including memory strategies, note-taking, test taking, time management, and study skills) are offered on an individual and small group basis in collaboration with OASIS. In addition, OSD provides disability awareness through maintenance of a resource library of books, periodicals, articles, films, video formats, an online quarterly newsletter, Aware, and in conjunction with CADRE, annual disability awareness events.

Students who have been diagnosed as having a disability and have some correlated limitation should consult promptly with a qualified specialist at the Office of Students with Disabilities (OSD), as only students registered with OSD are eligible for accommodation in classes. In order to implement an OSD-approved accommodation for examinations or assignments, students must meet with the course instructor within the first two weeks of the quarter and present a certificate from OSD recommending the appropriate accommodations.

If the student's disability has been certified by OSD, the course instructor should accommodate the student's needs. Faculty are not responsible for determining what accommodations are appropriate for a particular student. If an instructor is presented with a claim of a disability by a student who has not been certified by OSD, the course instructor should refer the student to OSD and not become personally involved in diagnosing or evaluating the seriousness of the disability. OSD is available to assist instructors in providing accommodation. If for any reason an instructor cannot meet the request, the department chair and OSD should be promptly consulted.

The full text of the Policy on Students with Disabilities and steps for Academic Accommodation have been posted to the Academic Senate Web site (as an Appendix to the San Diego Division Regulations), at the following address: <http://www-senate.ucsd.edu/apxtoc.html>.

Applying for Financial Aid

A student is eligible for financial aid if she or he:

1. Is a United States citizen or eligible noncitizen.
2. Has a valid social security number.
3. Is not in default on a federal student loan or has made satisfactory arrangements to repay it.
4. Does not owe money back on a federal student grant or has made satisfactory arrangements to repay it.
5. Is registered with Selective Service (males at least eighteen years old, unless not required).

6. Is enrolled at UCSD (minimum of six units per quarter) in a degree or certificate program. Limited status students (non-degree/non-certificate) enrolled in a course of study necessary to be accepted in a degree or certificate program are only eligible for one year of Federal Stafford Loan(s). After one year, these limited status students are not eligible for any financial aid funding.

7. Is making satisfactory academic progress for financial aid recipients.

Students must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress as a condition for maintaining eligibility for financial aid. For UCSD undergraduate financial aid recipients the standards are thirty-six units (or an average of twelve units per quarter for full-time enrollment) and an overall grade-point average of 2.0 during the current academic year and the following summer (similar unit requirements apply to graduate students who must maintain a 3.0 minimum GPA). Under-graduate students are considered for all financial aid sources up to their fifth year of college attendance (except for Cal Grants) and limited funding up to their sixth year. For graduate student duration requirements and for more detailed information on UCSD's Satisfactory Academic Progress standards for students enrolled full-time in a degree program, please see our Web site at www.ucsd.edu/finaid. For policy information on approved part-time status students, limited status and extension students, please contact the Financial Aid Office.

For evaluation of financial need, all applicants must submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or renewal FAFSA and, if requested, copies of the 2005 federal income tax returns, and any other required documents. The FAFSA form should be filed by March 3, 2006, the UCSD priority filing date, with the appropriate processing agency and must indicate the University of California, San Diego (list Federal School Code 001317) to receive a processed copy of the FAFSA. Late applicants will be considered for limited aid.

Receiving Financial Aid

UC financial aid for students with demonstrated financial need is funded by a combination, or "package," of gift and self-help aid. Grants and scholarships are awards that do not have to be repaid. Self-help aid may consist of a loan, which does have to be repaid, or a work-study award, earned by working a part-time job while attending school, or a combination of both. UCSD ensures that students in similar circumstances receive similar packages. Grant funds are directed to the most needy students. Students who are nonresidents of California should note that need-based financial aid funds are not sufficient to meet the additional cost of nonresident tuition ($17,304 during 2005-06). The family should be prepared to provide this amount from their own personal resources or educational loan programs. The various types of aid and programs which may be included in need-based packages are listed below:

Federal Pell Grant

The Federal Pell Grant program is designed to provide financial assistance to undergraduates attending postsecondary educational institutions. Amounts range from $400-$4,050 for 2006-07.

University of California Grant Program

The University of California Grant Program provides grants to undergraduate and graduate students.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG)

SEOG awards are federally funded and are available only to undergraduates. Awards may range from $100 to $4,000 per academic year.

Cal Grants (Undergraduate)

Cal Grants are awarded by the California Student Aid Commission to undergraduate California residents. All resident applicants for UCSD aid are required to apply for a Cal Grant. To be considered as a new winner, the FAFSA or renewal FAFSA and the GPA Verification Form must be postmarked prior to March 3, 2006. Current recipients must file a FAFSA or a renewal FAFSA each year to have their award renewed.

Repayable Scholarships/Fellowships for Teaching Credential Students

The Cal Grant T is awarded by the California Student Aid Commission to students who have been accepted into the Teaching Credential Program. The Governor's Teaching Fellowship (GTF) Program is administered by the California State University system. Those wishing to apply need to contact the UCSD Teacher Education Program at (858) 534-1680.

Work-Study

Federal and state work-study awards are employment programs that provide funds for student employment by the university or by public and private profit/nonprofit organizations. The work-study program provides experience in many fields, including experimental sciences, library work, recreation, computer sciences, peer counseling, and office work. Pay ranges from minimum wage and above. Job listings and referrals are provided through the Career Services Center.

Federal Perkins Loans

This loan carries a 5 percent interest rate. Students begin paying both the principal and the interest nine months after ceasing to be enrolled at least half-time.

Federal Subsidized Stafford Loans

The annual maximum allowed during the first year of undergraduate study is $2,625. Sophomores can borrow an annual maximum of $3,500, and the yearly limit for juniors and seniors is $5,500, with an undergraduate cumulative maximum of $23,000. Graduate students may borrow up to $8,500 per academic year with an aggregate sum up to $65,000, including the amount borrowed as an undergraduate. The interest rate for new borrowers is variable, not to exceed 8.25 percent. The 2005–06 rate was 5.3 percent.

The federal government pays (subsidizes) the interest on the student's behalf during in-school (enrolled in six units or more), grace, and authorized deferment periods. Repayment of principal and interest begins six months after the borrower leaves school or ceases to be enrolled as a half-time student.

Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loans

Students who do not have financial need eligibility for the maximum Federal Stafford Loan may borrow under this program. The annual maximum and interest rate are the same as the Subsidized Stafford Loan. Independent undergraduates may borrow an additional $4,000–$5,000 annually; graduate students may borrow an additional $10,000 annually. The maximums include amounts borrowed under the Federal Stafford Loan program. Aggregate maximums are $23,000 for dependent undergraduates, $46,000 for independent undergraduates, and $138,500 for graduate students. The interest is not paid on the student's behalf. Interest begins accruing immediately after disbursement, but payment of principal and interest may be deferred until six months after ceasing to be enrolled for six units or more. The amount borrowed cannot exceed the cost of education minus other financial aid resources (including other need-based loans).

Federal PLUS Loans for Parents

Parents of dependent undergraduate students are eligible to borrow under this program if they have no adverse credit history and meet program eligibility requirements. The interest rate for this loan is variable, but not to exceed 9 percent. In 2005–06, the interest rate was 6.1 percent. Parents are eligible to borrow up to the cost of education minus other financial aid (including other loans). The first payment is due within sixty days after disbursement by the lender.

Triton Registration Installment Plan (TRIP)

The UCSD Triton Registration Installment Plan (TRIP), administered by the Student Business Services (SBS), is a monthly payment arrangement and is available for students who desire an alternative method of financing their registration fees on a short-term basis. All students in good financial and academic standing are eligible for the program, except for those students whose financial aid or graduate support will pay their registration fees by the quarterly registration fee due date. A prerequisite to applying for the program is enrollment for the term. The TRIP allows registration fees to be paid in up to three installments each quarter. On a three-month plan, the first payment is required by the quarterly registration due date. The remaining payments are itemized on the student's next two monthly UCSD Billing Statements. There is a $30 nonrefundable quarterly fee that must be submitted with the application to the Billing Services unit of the Student Business Services Office. This fee is strictly used to offset the costs of the program. For further information, please contact the Billing Services Unit at (858) 534-6806, or online at: <http://sbs.ucsd.edu>.

Short-Term Emergency Loans

The limited emergency loan funds, administered by the Financial Aid Office, are loaned in small amounts to help students in critical short-term emergencies, and usually must be repaid within thirty days. There currently is a service charge of $20 per emergency loan, and students must be enrolled in at least six units. Registration fees must be paid prior to applying. Applications and further information are available from the Financial Aid Office.

Federal Tax Credits

Two federal tax credits may benefit you or your parents, if the grants and scholarships you receive do not fully cover your fees. Both tax credits are tied to the tuition and fees paid for college.

The Hope Scholarship Credit (up to $1,500) is available for the first two years of at-least-half-time enrollment in postsecondary education.

The Lifetime Learning Credit (up to $1,000 per tax year) is available for postsecondary enrollment at any level.

To find out more about these tax credits, consult your tax adviser or visit the U.S. Dept. of Education Web site www.ed.gov/inits/hope/ and the "Where Do You Want To Go" section on TritonLink.

THE UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The purpose of the Undergraduate Scholarship Program at UCSD is to recognize outstanding achievement, to encourage academic excellence, and to offer support to meritorious students.

Scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis by the UCSD Faculty Committee on Undergraduate Scholarships and Honors. Merit scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic excellence. Restricted scholarships are awarded based on one or more additional criteria or restrictions such as financial need, study in a particular major, or leadership. Students who are awarded scholarships restricted by financial need must file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) in order to receive the award. Additionally, undergraduate research scholarships are offered to current students which enable them to pursue special studies and projects under faculty supervision.

Scholarship Sponsors

UCSD is actively engaged in developing new scholarship opportunities. Many of these awards were established through the generous support of individual sponsors, foundations, businesses, and community organizations. Every gift toward undergraduate scholarships is appreciated and appropriately recognized. HOW TO APPLY FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

Entering Students

The University of California Application for Undergraduate Admission and Scholarships is also used to apply for the UCSD Regents and other entering freshmen undergraduate scholarships. No other paperwork is required. The application is submitted in November for the following academic year. Because scholarships are awarded to entering students on a very competitive basis, students should carefully comply with instructions on the UC Application for Undergraduate Admission and Scholarships to ensure full consideration for all eligible scholarships. Entering students who receive a scholarship from UCSD will be notified in writing before May 1. We regret that we are unable to mail denial notification letters to other applicants.

Current UCSD Students

Current UCSD students apply for scholarships annually during winter quarter for the following fall quarter by filing the UCSD Continuing Student Scholarship Application. This application is available online via TritonLink in February and is due in March. Current students who receive a scholarship from UCSD will be notified in writing by the end of June. Students who do not receive an award will not be notified due to the large volume of applications.

The International Center assists U.S. students going abroad, as well as international students, scholars, and families, and facilitates interaction among all UCSD students, faculty, and staff with international interests. The International Center's mission is to promote and support international exchange and education, and to:

- Provide the UCSD community with experiences that foster global perspectives, cross-cultural competence, and appreciation for diversity.
- Support UCSD international students, scholars, and study-abroad participants with services that enhance the quality of their intercultural experience and contribute to their academic success.
- Facilitate UCSD's participation in global scholarship and international educational exchange.

The International Center is made up of four distinct offices: the Programs Abroad Office (PAO); the International Student and Scholar Office (ISSO); the Friends of the International Center (the Friends); and, to coordinate all the activities that take place at the International Center, the Business Office. Each office has its own focus.

PAO serves the needs of all UCSD students. It helps those thinking about study abroad to learn about the options available, and it guides students through the process of applying to an exchange program, going on the exchange, and returning. Orientation and advising are offered at every step of the way.

ISSO focuses exclusively on the needs of all international students and scholars at UCSD. It provides services to help internationals navigate the regulatory maze all the way through completion of the program, from getting a visa and complying with I-94 regulations to getting employment authorization, paying taxes, and traveling internationally.

Finally, the Friends are a dedicated group of community volunteers who work together with staff to create programs and outreach activities to support our students and scholars in their efforts to succeed, and to enrich the experiences of internationals and their dependents while at UCSD. Among some of the most successful outreach and volunteer programs at the International Center are the Friday Cafes, the Friends' Resale Shop (raising over $20,000 annually for international education), language tutoring, Wednesday Morning Coffee (for spouses), the energetic International Club, and many, many others.

Housing

COMMUTER STUDENT SERVICES

Commuter Student Services is a rental listing referral and housing information resource center. This office receives and maintains up-to-date available rentals from people in the community within the various areas near campus. The rental listings include individual houses, apartments, and condos, as well as roommates, rooms in private homes, and work-exchange situations.

The university is located in the midst of a resort area that results in relatively high rent in the coastal towns of San Diego: Del Mar and Solana Beach to the north of campus, La Jolla, and Pacific Beach to the south. A general rule of thumb: the closer to the beach, the higher the rent.

Available through this office are helpful landlord/tenant materials such as: leases, room rental agreements, bus schedules, wall maps, a courtesy phone for local calling, and a variety of house-hunting aids.

Our Web site is useful for students and others unable to come into the office. Search through up-to-date rental listings and available roommates on our online database. Downloadable rental agreement forms are available. Links to local papers allow access to the classifieds. In addition, answers to frequently asked questions ease anxiety regarding a housing search.

Services are available to registered students, staff, faculty, and alumni of the University of California only. You must show a current UC ID card or official Letter of Acceptance to receive rental contacts. Rental referrals are not mailed, faxed, or given out over the telephone. The office staff will be happy to assist you with any housing questions or concerns. Our office is located in the Student Center, Building A, Suite 200-202 on the second floor.

Residence Halls and Apartments

Residence halls are arranged in suites of eight to eleven students who share a study/living room and restroom facilities. Apartments are self-contained units with kitchens, bathrooms, living areas, and combinations of two, three, or four bedrooms. Typically four to five students share an apartment. While incoming freshmen are generally assigned space in residence halls, high demand for on-campus housing has resulted in the assignment of apartment spaces for many incoming freshmen. Rooms are furnished and provide ample space for effective studying, sleeping, and storing of personal belongings, books, and clothes.

Each college's resident dean makes specific room assignments in early September when the majority of spaces are filled. Housing and Dining Administrative Services Office administers all other details related to housing contracts.

General Information

The Living On Campus Housing Application Instructions Information Brochure was mailed in mid-March to all who were admitted to UCSD. Only online applications were accepted and students were given instructions on how to apply for on-campus housing via TritonLink. To be eligible for on-campus housing, the Housing Application and the Statement of Intent to Register form must have been received by the specified deadline dates. On-campus housing spaces are filled according to the date the housing application was received in the Housing and Dining Administrative Services Office. The priority system is explained in detail in the Living On Campus Housing Brochure.

Housing application deadline for fall 2006-07 was May 4, 2006 for incoming freshmen. Due to high demand, transfer students will not receive on-campus housing. For the best selection of housing closest to campus, contact the UCSD Off-Campus Housing Office. Web site address: <http://offcampushousing.ucsd.edu> email: offcampushousing@ucsd.edu

The Housing and Dining Administrative Services Office recommends that freshmen, not offered housing by the first of June, call (858) 534-4010 for further information.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS AT UCSD

<http://athletics.ucsd.edu>

With 23 intercollegiate teams to choose from the UC San Diego Athletics program provides students with varying interests the opportunity to participate in a highly-competitive program. As a non-scholarship institution, UCSD's Tritons have competed in the NCAA Division III, achieving national prominence in nearly every sport. In 1998, UCSD won the Sears Directors' Cup, which is awarded to the nation's top overall athletics program in the NCAA Division III. In the fall of 2000, UCSD moved to Division II and immediately captured an NCAA Championship in Women's Soccer while finishing runner-up in the NCAA Water Polo Championship.

Triton teams have captured 94 first-, second-, and third-place national finishes, led by Women's Volleyball's seven titles. Women's Soccer has won six championships, followed by Women's Water Polo with five, Women's Tennis with four, Men's Soccer with three and Men's Golf with one national championship. Individually, 90 Tritons have won national championships while a remarkable 800 have earned All-American Recognition. Tritons have been named Academic All-Americans on 140 occasions and 20 student-athletes have been awarded the prestigious NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship.

Sports offered for men and women include basketball, crew, cross country, fencing, soccer, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, volleyball, and water polo. Men's baseball, men's golf, and women's softball are also offered.

With the move to Division II, most teams now compete in the California Collegiate Athletic Association, widely considered to be the top Division II athletic conference in the country.

In addition to athletic competition, UCSD students may get involved through support groups, game management, and internships. The UCSD Pep Band has grown steadily in recent years and is a fixture of spirit at all basketball and volleyball events. In 1999, the Triton Tide made its debut as a student booster club, and students may also join the UCSD Cheerleaders, the UCSD Twirl Flag Team, or the UCSD Dance Team. In addition to the student groups, Triton Athletic Associates, a booster group of parents, alumni, and friends assists UCSD Athletics with much-needed financial support. Students interested in a firsthand experience in the operations of an athletics program should check into opportunities to work in game management, which provides the staff for all home athletic events, or inquire about internships within the Athletics Department.

Student Health Service

Mail code 0039
(858) 534-3300
<http://studenthealth.ucsd.edu>

Student Health Service (SHS) is accredited by the American Association for Ambulatory Health Care, Inc. (AAAHC). Our purpose is to promote and preserve the health and well-being of all registered students so that they may pursue their academic goals. Our staff of physicians, nurse practitioners, registered nurses, medical assistants, health educators, and other medical professionals is committed to helping students maintain healthy lifestyles. SHS is conveniently located along Library Walk west of the Price Center and south of Geisel Library. For more information about SHS and services offered, access our Web page at <http://studenthealth.ucsd.edu>.

General medical appointments are provided at no charge to all registration-paying students during the academic quarters. There is a $10 access fee for urgent care and first aid for students enrolled in the Student Health Insurance Plan (SHIP) and a $20 access fee for those not enrolled in SHIP. Summer access to SHS is at no additional charge for students enrolled in SHIP. Continuing students not enrolled in SHIP are charged a summer health fee to access Student Health Service.

Reduced fees are charged for pharmaceuticals, contraceptives, travel immunizations, and laboratory tests sent to our reference lab. If you are enrolled in SHIP, many fees are covered. There is a $10 co-payment for lab and a $20 co-payment each for X-ray, specialty appointments, and nutrition counseling for students without SHIP. A vision clinic is available at modest fees and offers eye glasses, designer frames, lenses, sunglasses, contacts, and eye exams. Students enrolled in SHIP are eligible for additional discounts.

Although undergraduate, graduate, medical, and international students may have unlimited visits with SHS, students requiring medical or surgical care from practitioners, hospitals, or clinics other than SHS should be prepared to assume the cost of such care. SHIP provides benefits for ambulance, emergency room, hospitalization, most outpatient services, surgery, and major medical expenses with a written SHS referral (applies when the student is within a 100-mile radius of UCSD; outside the 100-mile radius a referral is not needed for services). SHIP also includes benefits for a dental plan, pharmaceuticals, and discounts at the SHS Vision Clinic. The cost for SHIP is factored into grants, loans, and work-study programs offered to students who receive financial assistance. The fee for SHIP is paid by the university for graduate and professional students holding academic appointments of 25 percent time or more.

Students covered by private health insurance that meets university waiver criteria can opt out of SHIP by completing the waiver application online through TritonLink prior to posted deadlines. Waivers are processed each academic year. For additional changes, requests, and information, contact the Student Health Insurance office. The campus-based insurance plans do not replace the primary medical care and referral services provided by the Student Health Service.

Brochures describing the Student Health Insurance Plan, limitations, exclusions, and open enrollment periods are available at Student Health Service and through the SHS Web page at <http://studenthealth.ucsd.edu>. The insurance coordinators are available to assist students with any questions at (858) 534-2124.

SLS conducts twenty legal education workshops on a wide variety of topics each quarter. Through its Community Law Project, SLS provided pre-law students with service learning opportunities in underprivileged, underrepresented San Diego communities. The UCSD Alumni Association was formed in 1964 by a small group of early graduates, and it has grown today to represent over 100,000 alumni. Our mission is to foster a lifelong, mutually beneficial relationship of alumni and students with UCSD. The association works to provide alumni with continued access to the resources of the university, communicate UCSD news and happenings, and facilitate a network for alumni and student interaction.

The Alumni Association awards undergraduate scholarships, recognizes outstanding alumni, faculty, and students, assists the university with legislative advocacy, and brings alumni together in social, educational, and networking forums in San Diego and across the nation. The association publishes @UCSD magazine and hosts an active online community.

Increasingly, the Alumni Association is providing current students with access to alumni as a resource for social, career, and community connections. When students become members of the association they maximize their interaction with this larger community of alumni. Offerings include career mentoring, skills development training, and support for student organizations and activities.
